Dear Sharon

I feel our relationship after working with your company would not be absolute without a written analysis of a phenomenal creation that has been developed over the past months in Camps Bay under the slopes of the 12 Apostles mountain range.

To place the experience historically; Sharon Sager and Associates were contracted in November 2007 to design and project manage a major renovation and re-modelling of the above mentioned property in Camps Bay, Cape Town. The house was quaint but had aged due to little or no design and rebuilding being carried out over the past 15 years or so.

Building demolition commenced in mid January 2008. Sharon Sager and her enthusiastic and professional team managed every element of the building and design process in a creative, detailed and sophisticated manner. All discussions and decisions were carried out in a consultative environment within the strict boundaries and principles of client respect, privacy and understanding.

Although this particular winter had higher rainfall statistics than in previous years, thus curtailing working days available, the project continued and was completed within acceptable time lines in late July 2008.

We as clients continued living on the premises throughout the project. This was only possible due to the extreme sensitivity and impeccable neatness of Sager and Associates' builders and sub-contractors.

The finished product in both design and building standards is quite unbelievable. Under the overall objective of a new "lifestyle" the property has been totally transformed into an elegant yet relaxed showpiece that has more than met all our expectations.

Finally, we can only recommend Sharon Sager and her magnificent team as not only outstanding individuals, but as a credible, honest, efficient and a highly skilled company that excelled in service and client care.

Yours sincerely

Jonathan Biderman-Pam
